The June 12, 2020 article takes a brief look at the recently enacted Subchapter V of the Bankruptcy Code, which "provides a more streamlined procedure for smaller businesses to seek relief similar to Chapter 11 but at reduced costs."

The article further highlights some of the qualifications for a company to file Subchapter V, including the temporary increase in debt limits as part of the CARES Act, as well as the key provisions in a traditional Chapter 11 case that have been removed.
